HAVANA, July 22.—While Cuban soldiers with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets, delegates to the conference of Pan-American foreign ministers at Havana waited impatiently today for the keynote speech by Secretary of State Cordell Hull—an address that will get the parley well under way.

Hull's speech, scheduled for 4 p. m., is expected to constitute a general statement on the Monroe Doctrine and an offer of United States economic concessions to the Latin American republics in exchange for their adherence to a program of cooperation in the western hemisphere against German or other outside military or economic penetration.

Report German Agents

Military precautions were ordered as a result of reports that German agents are seeking to hamstring the conference and that 40,000 pro-Nazi Spanish Falangists (Fascists) are in Cuba.

Among the German agents in Cuba is George Leisewitz, a member of the German legation in Chile. He allegedly is warning Latin American delegates that if their countries do not cooperate with Germany now she may bar them from trade after the war in Europe ends.

Cuban President Frederico Laredo Bru inaugurated the conference

Bullitt Tells President Of France's Downfall

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, July 22.—President Roosevelt and Ambassador William C. Bullitt arrived in Hyde Park today for three days of secluded conferences over America's future relations with the new French government under Premier Marshall Henri Petain.

There was no official word concerning Washington's attitude toward the Vichy government of defeated France but best information pointed to a "status quo" until the threatened death struggle between Nazi Germany and England has been decided.

Bullitt flew back to the United States after spending sixteen days in Paris to observe the Nazi occupation of the French capital.

Last night, first at the White House and then aboard the presidential special, he gave Mr. Roosevelt the first detailed report of the German blitzkrieg through the low countries and into France.

The Roosevelt train reached Hyde Park early this morning and the president and Ambassador Bullitt immediately motored to the Roosevelt family estate.

HARRISBURG, July 22.—Wendell Willkie may open the Republican presidential campaign in Pennsylvania with an address at the state capital, it was disclosed here today.

The Republican presidential nominee has been invited to address the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania during their state convention, September 19-21. The Young G. O. P. gathering is expected to touch off the Republican fall campaign.

McNary May Come

Willkie may be accompanied on his first official trip to Pennsylvania since his nomination by his running mate, Senator Charles McNary, of Oregon, and by Republican National Chairman Joseph Martin, congressman from Massachusetts, and Gov. Howard Stassen of Minnesota, Republican convention keynoter. Negotiations are now underway to bring all of them to Pennsylvania.

Present also at the Young G.O.P. conclave will be Gov. Arthur H. James and members of his cabinet.

Republican State Chairman James F. Torrence is expected to make public within the next 10 days a list of 36 prominent Republicans whose names will be recommended to Willkie for appointment as presidential electors. In the event Pennsylvania goes Republican this fall, the electors formally will cast Pennsylvania's ballots for Willkie.

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 22.—Plans for the notification ceremony at which Wendell L. Willkie will be officially informed that he is the Republican candidate for the presidency, were to be discussed today with the nominee by Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Halleck, who nominated Willkie at Philadelphia, was due in early this morning. He has already announced the date in Indiana as August 10, a date given speculatively by Willkie here.

Until that time, the candidate probably will continue to adjust his program from day to day as he has since his nomination.

Pittsburgh Young Man Ends Life In Auto Parked Near Girl's Home

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—Leaving 10 self-pitying notes, including two to a girl musician who wouldn't marry him, Kenneth Sexauer, 26-year-old divorced father, ended his life in his parked automobile outside the young woman's home today.

The Baldwin township man's body was found by the girl, Miss Catherine Heupel, of suburban Dormont. She heard a motor running, looked out her window and saw Sexauer's car in her driveway.

A garden hose connected with the exhaust pipe on his machine had piped deadly carbon monoxide gas into the automobile.

Sexauer, a downtown elevator operator, left notes to Miss Heupel, her mother, to his first wife and two children, to his mother, and to Chief of County Detectives Jerry Deasy.

One of the notes tc Miss Heupel was pages in length. One of the notes was written on a Carnegie music hall free organ recital program which listed Miss Catherine Heupel as clarinetist with the Pittsburgh Civic String orchestra. The shortest note to the girl read:

"Dearest Kay: I hope you're satisfied. Even you couldn't say I haven't tried, nor could you say I didn't do everything in my power to make you keep your promise to me. With my last breath I'll be loving you, only you and always you. 'Til death do us part.

"Good-bye darling, may God bless you for showing me the right way. Too bad you wouldn't keep your promise and stay with me. Your new Ken. Made to order by, but not wanted by you."

Body Of Mary Jane Massey, 14, Found Stuffed In Oil Drum Near Fort Snelling, Minn.

(International News Service)

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 22.—The Federal Bureau of Investigation today took charge of an investigation into the murder of 14-year-old Mary Jane Massey, whose body was found jammed in a 55-gallon oil drum in a ravine on the Fort Snelling military reservation yesterday.

The girl, who had been missing since July 13, was the daughter of Sergeant William Massey of the Third Infantry. Sergt. Massey and sheriffs of two counties led a week-long search for her, aided by police and CCC boys.

The body was found by St. Paul police detectives Boyd Carrier and Morgan Soderberg. Because of its condition, it would not be determined immediately whether she had been criminally assaulted. The body had been jammed into the drum through a 14-inch-side opening.

Nazi Hopes For Storm Of British Public Opinion For Peace Dissipated

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, July 22.—Nazi Germany today virtually abandoned hope that Great Britain will sue for peace "to avoid destruction" but gave England another 24 hours or more before launching the attack for which all preparations have been completed.

Expressions of opinion in England over the week-end apparently convinced the German government that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's "last offer" to the enemy will go unheeded.

The Reich will wait, however until after foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax has delivered his broadcast tonight and Prime Minister Winston Churchill has made his expected address to the house of commons tomorrow.

Fireman Killed In Freight Wreck

Accident Occurs On Pennsylvania Railroad Near Millvale, Pa., Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 22—One railroad fireman was killed and another was injured today when a shifting engine sideswiped a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at Millvale, overturning two locomotives.

Walter E. Kruise, 58, of Turtle Creek, died under the wreckage of his locomotive, where he was pinned for several hours. R. M. Lester, 40, of Oakmont, the other fireman, suffered only cuts and bruises, officials reported.

The switching engine was backing onto the main tracks from a siding when its tender struck the freight engine. Both engines went over and seven of the freight train's 60 cars were overturned. The train was enroute from Conway to Johnstown with a load of ore.

Kruise was fireman on the shifting engine, piloted by Engineer W. G. Peoples, 49, of Pitcairn.

The wreck was the second in two weeks on the Conemaugh division of the Pennsylvania. Twenty-one freight cars were derailed July 11 near Creighton.

Rumanian Cabinet May Be Replaced With One More Favorable To Soviet

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, July 22.—Predictions that Rumania's cabinet headed by pro-Nazi Ion Gigurtu may soon resign after only about two weeks in office were heard in Balkan political quarters today along with reports that King Carol may offer the premiership to some Rumanian statesman favorable to Russia.

(The London Daily Express reporte that Soviet Dictator Josef Stalin sent a note to Rumania stressing the "desirability" of a "popular government." King Carol, said the Express, was reported asking the advice of Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini.)

It was pointed out that Premier Gigurtu failed to obtain a German guarantee against Hungarian territorial claims and that in this situation "ostentatious Nazification" of Rumania is considered pointless and reason for existence of the Gigurtu cabinet virtually removed.

Britain meanwhile, once more entered the Balkan diplomatic house of cards with a new effort to retrieve her shaken position in Rumania. Sir Hughe Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to Turkey, went to Bucharest and talked at length with Ronald Hoare, British minister to Rumania.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Congress reconvened today to consider issues of national defense, foreign policy, and domestic problems which threaten to extend the session into early fall.

Britain Reports Destroyer Lost

German Air Attack Results In Sinking Of Destroyer Brazen—Crew Saved

SUBMARINE ALSO LOST TO BRITISH

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 22.—Loss of the British destroyer Brazen as the result of a German air attack was announced officially today.

Authorities asserted, however, that no lives were lost when the vessel went to the bottom while being towed after suffering heavy damages from an aerial assault.

Authorities said the Brazen was the 27th British destroyer lost since hostilities began.

The 1,360-ton Brazen was one of eight vessels of the Beagle class. Laid down under Britain's 1928 program, the Brazen was armed with four 4.7-inch and six smaller guns and eight 21-inch torpedo tubes on quadruple mounts.

Destroyers of this class and the Acasta class were the first destroyers with tubes quadruply mounted.

Carrying a normal complement of 138 men, the Brazen was capable of 35 knots.

Submarine Also Lost

Announcement of this sinking followed the admiralty's statement last night that the famous British submarine Salmon had been given up for lost after being unreported for several days.

The Salmon, which had one of the most spectacular careers of the war, was commanded by Commander E.

Residents Suffer As Mercury Continues Above Ninety Mark For Fifth Day

Lawrence county residents have suffered tremendously the past few days as the temperature has persistently climbed above the 90 mark, with little indication for an immediate break.

MANY DROWNINGS OCCUR IN NATION

Little Relief As Yet In Sight Is Report From Weather Man

(International News Service)

Americans from coast to coast sweltered today under the searing heat which sent millions out of cities to seek week-end coolness at resorts and which continued as the millions returned to their jobs.

With no relief in sight, the nation counted the death toll from drownings, prostrations and traffic accidents. From New England to the far west temperatures still were at their highest readings for the summer.

Nearly all cities had temperatures in the 90's: Washington, D. C., was suffering under a reading of 100; and in Yuma, Ariz., the week-end record was 111.

The deaths which were directly or indirectly attributed to the summer's worst heat were equally distributed from city to city and state to state.

Many Drownings

There were at least 18 drownings in Ohio as the mercury stayed between 90 and 97. There was one death from heat prostration and five killed in auto crashes.

Michigan counted nine drownings and five traffic deaths. In Indiana there were seven drownings and five fatalities in auto crashes.

NAZI BOMBERS RAID SCOTLAND

ial total war before the long-promised final attack is actually launched.

Use Flying "Decoys"

After a spectacular sky battle in which six British planes drove off an armada of 80 Nazi raiders it was learned the Germans are "planting" decoys in the air to throw defending planes off the course of the heavy attacks.

In these operations, the Germans are throwing old bombers and seaplanes in front of British fighter patrols, while the speedy, powerful attacking bombers sneak overhead. Already, this ruse has been tried three times, but in each case it failed and the bombing formations were dispersed before reaching their objectives, authorities said.

An official announcement said enemy planes bombed one district in the midlands and another on the northeast coast but inflicted only a little damage this morning.

A house was reported destroyed by fire but no one was injured seriously, the statement said.

Some Nazi Planes Downed

German planes appeared over Southeastern England late this morning.

A few minutes later high explosives and incendiaries were dropped on a Southeastern Scottish town but caused only a few casualties and minor damage, officials said.

Anti-aircraft batteries went into action in Northwestern England, driving off a German plane.

One enemy bomber that appeared over Southeastern England was shot down by a British fighter off the coast.

Earlier it was reported that two and possibly three German bombers were brought down by anti-aircraft batteries while flying over a town in Southwestern England shortly after midnight.

High point of the latest phases of the war in the air, which has brought down the most severe air raids yet experienced, was announced tersely by the British Air Ministry in a statement which said six fleet British Hurricane fighters hurled themselves at 80 German bombers and fighters over the Channel yesterday afternoon.

Most spectacular feat of the Salmon was a foray into the minestrewn waters of Heligoland Bight to torpedo the German cruiser Leipzig and another cruiser at Wilhelmshaven.

On the same voyage the Salmon saw the German liner Bremen dashing from Murmansk, Russia, toward a German port.

Bickford refrained from sinking the huge ship because of the impossibility of giving its crew advance warning, in conformity with international law.

After returning from that voyage in May, Bickford married Valerie Courtney, 22, daughter of Air Marshall Sir Christopher Courtney.

The admiralty announced that the Brazen's crew shot down three German airplanes before being badly damaged.

At the same time, authorities revealed that the destroyer Beagle destroyed a Nazi junkers "87" plane in another naval-aerial engagement.

GERMANY LOSES HOPE OF BRITAIN ASKING FOR PEACE

"Zero hour for England's destruction" will not be set until Halifax or Churchill have been given every opportunity to decide the fate of the British empire.

Early hopes that a storm of public British opposition to continuation of the war might sweep Churchill aside and permit a peaceful end to the conflict were dissipated. In this connection, reports that former Premier David Lloyd George had asked a secret session of parliament to consider Hitler's peace appeal attracted scant attention.

"We do not formulate or base our policy on the activity of anonymous political groups in England or of quarters which oppose the Churchill regime," a Wilhelmstrasses spokesman said. "Our decisions are based upon the pronouncements that official and semi-official England make to the world.

No Barriers To Remain

"If Halifax and Churchill spurn Hitler's hand, there will no longer remain any moral barriers so far as we are concerned.

"We will then take up the challenge with a free conscience, although we are convinced that if the English people had an opportunity to escape from Churchill's thumb they would talk differently.

"But since they cannot, we must assume they are willing to follow along Churchill's road to doom."

Stressing the "great awakening" which will come to England in event of German attack, propaganda minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' newspaper Der Angriff said:

"There is no parallel in history for what will occur. In British experience, it will be absolutely novel."

The newspaper Nachtausgabe said:

"It is apparently all the same to Churchill whether the English people are to be plunged from their illusory heaven. It matters not to him what fearful fate will overtake England if its people a re egged on to turn fractireurs (snipers) and shoot German soldiers."

This was an obvious reference to Churchill's announcement that London and other English cities would be defended "street by street and house by house."

The boy suffered the injury when he either tried to jump off the car or was thrown out of it. The younger brother escaped injuries.

the special train of the Denver Post early tomorrow morning. Originally he was to have returned to Denver tomorrow night and Colorado Springs the following morning. His latest though was to fly on to Salt Lake City, Utah, some time tomorrow afternoon or night to attend a celebration of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, returning to Colorado Springs either the same night or the next day.

The only other tentative date the candidate has scheduled is a farm meeting at Des Moines on August 5 at which time he will round out the farm angle of his acceptance speech to be delivered five days later.

He has conferred with local farm and cattle men at Colorado Springs and also had George N. Peek, first administrator of the argricultural administration act, here at the suggestion of Senator Arthur Vandenberg. Peek presented a typed farm and foreign trade program which the candidate accepted without comment except to remark that he was talking with various persons on the farm program.

In securing news material for today's paper, this Pa Newc was talking with a lady housekeeper on Chestnut street and she related that all during the week end, since the arrival of the heat wave, her three children have been playing "wintertime" records on the victrola. These numbers included such tunes as "Winter Wonderland", "Jingle Bells" and "One Horse Open Sleigh." Maybe their imagination was so great that these tunes kept them cooler than ordinary.

Another early ripe tomato is reported by Mrs. E. J. Cookson of 510 West Park Way, which is an Oxheart.

One of the loveliest trees of the season is the smoke tree, with its wheat feathery blossoms and tiny leaves. Several are planted around the vicinity and are quite an eyeful. One resident on Highland avenue, who has one in his yard, had the tree lighted up by a flood light on a recent evening so that the public might share its beauty.

CONGRESS AGAIN RESUMES SESSION

keep congress in session continuously after the legislative calendar is completed, but admitted they have a fight on their hands.

Principal issues expected to provoke long debate include legislation for conscription of men from 18 to 65 years old for military training and service, mobilization of the National Guard for extensive training, the new $4,884,000,000 defense bill, and excess profits taxes to help foot the defense bill.

The secondary legislative calendar includes such controversial measures modification of the national labor relations act, and the Walter-Logan bill to give federal courts greater jurisdiction over the rulings of quasi judicial agencies.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, hopes congress will adjourn by September 1, but there were indications that the number of senators who would rather remain in continuous session is increasing.

Family Of Three Killed In Crash

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 22.—A Cambria co[illegible] family of three, enroute to Baltimore where the father had obtained work, was wiped out today when their car struck a milk truck on Route 40 near Boonsboro, Maryland.

Crushed to death in the wreckage were:

Frank Beers, 23, of Fallen Timber, Pa.

Hazel Beers, 22, his wife.

Dwight, age three, their son.

Police said the father apparently had dozed at the wheel of the automobile, which was shoved against a bank. Half an hours' work was required to remove the bodies from the wreckage.

THREE BALTIC STATES BECOME PART OF SOVIET

that Russia would welcome them into the fold. Only the formalities of acceptance remain.

Thousands Parade

In Riga, after the vote was taken, thousands paraded to the Soviet legation to hear the Russian envoy, I. S. Zotov, greet Latvia as a new member of the union.

Earlier Prof. Kirchebstein, leader of the new "popular front" government, announced formation of workers' committees to handle national affairs. He said salaries would be increased, political prisoners freed and the civic guard dissolved.

Similar procedures took place in Tallinn and Kaunas, thereby ending the independence won by the Baltic states after the collapse of czarist Russia in the World war.

Bowed Last Fall

Last fall all three states bowed to Moscow ultimatums demanding naval and air bases in their territory. Finland rejected a similar ultimatum and fought a gallant, bloody war, only to be vanquished by overwhelming numbers.

More recently, Russia sent troops into Lithuania to occupy the frontier with Germany.

Since then the three little states drifted rapidly toward Moscow. The existing governments were forced to flee and communist regimes were elected to replace them.

Today streets of Riga, Tallinn and Kaunas were decorated with red flags and portraits of Dictator Joseph Stalin.

THIRD TERM IN 1928 AND 1940

NOMINATION of President Roosevelt for a third term by the Democratic party calls to mind that on February 10, 1928, the senate of the United States adopted the following resolution:

> That it is the sense of the senate that the precedent established by Washington and other presidents of the United States in retiring from the presidential office after their second term has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions.

This was a denunciation of the third term as "unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions." Among those who voted for this measure were Senator Alben W. Barkely, permanent chairman and second keynoter of the Chicago convention; Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the platform committee of the same convention last week; Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the senate, and many other distinguished Democrats.

Did the expediency of the political situation cause them to change their minds?

PATRIOTISM FOR WOMEN

Patriotism of the restrained, non-hysterical brand is evidenced in a statement by Mrs. Henry M. Robert Jr., president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to the society's membership.

"Total defense in these critical times," says Mrs. Robert, "means much more than military and naval preparedness. It is too early to predict what fields of opportunity may open to you as women. When the new problems of defense are worked out, be ready to offer your own particular service. It may be driving your own car on errands for the Red Cross, or it may be working in a factory, or doing something that you have never done before."

And that, certainly, is far superior from the standpoint of sound feminine policy, to the emotionalized proposal that the ladies rush out and buy guns to protect the country against the menace of parachute troops. Mrs. Robert's dignified, calm and judicious proposal reflects credit on D. A. R. leadership in a day of raw nerves and jittery fears.

COVERED WAGON CUSTOM

Why do Americans—most of them, that is—drive to the right instead of to the left, as Englishmen do? The practice dates from the 1750's, says the American Road Builders' Association. The driver of the great lumbering Conestoga wagons which came into general use about that time sat on the left wheel horse, the better to use his whip on the others of the team when necessary.

When two of these wagons met, therefore, they moved from the middle of the narrow road to the right, so the drivers, sitting on the left side, could be sure the left wheels got safely by. Smaller, lighter vehicles naturally followed the deep ruts marked by the big freight wagons.

These same drivers who so arbitrarily decreed that future generations of American citizens should drive to the right also fathered another familiar American institution. They wanted a long smoke and a cheap one. Ingenious Pittsburgh tobacconists were quick to oblige. They named their product Conestogas and the teamsters carried stocks of them in their wagons. That is how stogies were born.

TREASURES SAVED—AND LOST—IN WAR

Art lovers everywhere will be glad to learn, from Jacques Jaujard, Director of French Museums, that such treasures as the "Venus de Milo," the "Winged Victory," "Mona Lisa" and other priceless items from the famous Louvre collection are safe in various regions of France. They will be restored to their places in Paris, Jaujard hopes, as soon as peace negotiations between Germany and France have been completed.

However, there are other European treasures which it was not possible to save from war's destructive fury. Ancient buildings in the Low Countries; architectual gems of such Dutch cities as Rotterdam; time-honored churches; schools; the Louvain library, rebuilt after the World War with American funds—these and many other now ruined structures could not be packed up like "Mona Lisa" and removed to places of safety.

And there were other treasures that fell before the Hitler sweep across continental Europe. The French Republic, dedicated to liberty, equality and faternity, collapsed quickly under the Nazi blow, in large part because its moral defenses had been chiseled away by unscrupulous politicians. If French democracy had been given even a relative part of the safeguarding accorded with such love and devotion to the Louvre art treasures, France might not now be a nation in mourning for lost freedom.

If King Zog comes to America, he will have to resign himself to being last in all the directories.

An astronomer says there are enough stars for every living person to claim 2,000,000, which is sure to cause trouble if it becomes generally known. So many will insist upon claiming the 2,000,000 biggest ones.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—James A. Farley announced his resignation as chairman of the Democratic committee: "I have an opportunity now to accept an attractive offer, and in justice to my family, because of my financial situation, I am going to accept."

DENVER—Wendell Willkie tells union stock yards employees: "I frankly sought the opportunity to run for president on the Republican ticket because I have some deep seated convictions I want to present to the American people."

NEW YORK—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia urges military preparedness and national unity: "We must start to bring about that unity now and this means support of the government no matter who is at the head."

CHICAGO—Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture and Democratic vice-presidential nominee, explains why he turned to the Democratic party: "I left the Republican party because I became convinced it would be impossible to carry out a successful program for agriculture under the Republican party."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SAFETY FIRST IN BABY'S FOOD

In this column today I have in mind especially the baby in congested city areas, the baby in rural places, and the baby who goes travelling.

Just because hot weather may increase digestive disturbance and intestinal troubles in babies and young children, the mother can afford to take special precautions.

Especially in rural places, the baby's drinking water should be boiled. It won't hurt him if the water is not cold.

Fruit and vegetables are safer when cooked, though cooking might destroy some of their vitamins. Anyway, we can be sure the fruit and vegetables are well washed; this also to remove poisons left by spraying.

Boil Baby's Milk

In city or country, a safe way is to boil the baby's milk. H. Kent Tenney, Jr., M. D., associate Professor of Pediatrics, University of Wisconsin Medical School, advises (in "Let's Talk About Your Baby"):

"About continuing the use of boiled milk: I believe it is a good plan to keep it up until the baby is about two years old. It is more easily digested and much safer than raw milk. Pasteurization probably makes the milk perfectly safe but does not affect its digestibility. The fear of the constipating effect of boiled milk would not influence my opinion even if it were true. And anyhow, a bit of constipation is a much safer thing to have around the houes than a tendency to diarrhea.

"The very common use of boiled milk in the treatment of diarrhea is for the purpose of preventing the entrance of tough curds into an already irritated bowel and not for any specific constipating effect."

Concerning diarrhea. Dr. Tenney says:

"In line with this question of dietary restrictions, I want to say a few words about diarrhea, which, in spite of our efforts, is still a large contributor to infant mortality and morbidity. As I have told you before, diarrhea is a very untrustworthy neighbor to have around, and the younger the child the more treacherous it is. In other words, the potential dangers of a diarrhea at one year are far greater than at four years. Now, while there are many types and causes of diarrhea, and it is not worth while for you to learn all about them, still there are some things you should know so that if your child develops the condition you can make some dietary changes.

Watch Diet

"Regardless of the type of diarrhea, it is wise to reduce to a minimum the fat, sugar, and roughage in the diet. This can be readily done by using skimmed, thoroughly boiled milk, and omitting sugar, cereals, and vegetables. The addition of a teaspoonful or so of unsweetened chocolate to the boiling milk is frequently effective, as is also the use of some of the protein powders such as Mead's Casec.

"But the really important thing to do is replace the fluid that is being lost, by giving plenty of water. I told you a few minutes ago that when the baby had fever you could give him any kind of fruit juice, but in the case of diarrhea it is best to stick to plain water or very weak tea, as fruits are somewhat laxative.

"If his diarrhea is complicated by vomiting, the necessity for fluids is even greater. Here you must start with minute quantities, building up gradually as he demonstrates his ability to retain them. When it comes to the treatment of the type of vomiting that is not complicated by diarrhea, the system is much the same in regard to quantities, but here we use much sweetened fruit juice or at times just plain sugar."

I wish every mother of an infant might have a copy of Dr. Tenney's little book.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Our two-year-old child has the annoying habit of bumping her head against the head of the bed. My husband thinks she should be spanked for it.

A. My wife's husband agrees with him Be on hand always when she is likely to engage in this head-bumping. Then bare her bottom and give her a few smacks. Permit no exceptions. Head-bumping and crib-shaking are nuisances which can and ought to be corrected early. Pain, intelligently applied does the trick.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

IT'S THE SYSTEM

The shower of brickbats lately heavy in the direction of Rome were aimed at an individual only—Il Duce, who, with "tranquil conscience," hurled his nation into war to break the empires of Britain and France.

But perhaps the real villain of the piece was something more than a flesh-and-blood person. It may have been the complicated stuff of which dictatorship itself is made. For dictatorship strips the people of all power, reduces them to helpless puppets, surrounds the "leader" with fawning yes-men, isolates him from the normal contacts of life, nourishes god-like dreams of conquest without fear of hindrance. Only under a totalitarian state could a whole people be thrust against their will onto the field of battle. But dictatorship was born in time of crisis, and only by repeated crises—natural or "manufactured"—can it hold the people together.

War, the greatest crisis of all, is the admitted goal of totalitarian powers, for it sends forth the nation on a "heroic" path of conquest and destruction—or self-destruction. Having first destroyed the people's liberty, it is but an essay next step to ask the people to go forth blindly and destroy themselves.

Such is the nature, and evil, of dictatorship.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:25. Sun rises tomorrow 4:47.

After seeing what is going on in politics we are glad we are not a politician. We are not smart enough to be crooked enough to be a politician.

"Know thyself." That is good preaching for any season of the year. It is as good now as when Cervantes said it, centuries ago. It is important to know thyself, even though it may be necessary to wear a button for identification.

It's harder than ever to pay and like it. Paying causes a lot of cursing.

In the South Sea Islands the society belles think they are well dressed when they wear only a shell necklace. The weather is hot there all the time.

CENTER OF SUPPLY

So you've sent the baby to the city, eh?" asked the visitor at the farm. "I should think the country air would be good for him."

"It was on account of the milk," said the farmer.

"Odd," remarked the visitor. "You have cows here seems you should have milk, too."

"Oh, we do," said the farmer. "But we have none to use around the house because we send all of it to the city. We figure the baby should be where there was plenty of milk."

Twenty members of a state legislature spent the night locked in prison for the thrill of it.

And an opposition newspaper criticized the warden for not losing the key and giving all the people of the state something to be thankful for.

FOUND OUT

An Englishman was visiting this country for the first time, and as he was driving along the highway, saw a large sign, "Drive slow. This means you!"

The Englishman stopped in surprise and exclaimed, "My word! How did they know I was here?"

"I'd like a pair of towels," said the new boarder.

"What?" demanded the landlady "You talk like you're planning to stay a whole month."

There is some good in everything. When liquor makes you act the fool, it mercifully dulls your mind so you can't remember the details next day.

A man heard a good one and couldn't wait to get home and tell his wife about it. So he telephoned her:

"Darling, do you know why men are like donkeys?" he asked.

Called away from the bridge table the wife was a bit cross.

"Don't judge everyone by yourself," she said, shortly, and he hung up the telephone rather crestfallen.

France is going to adopt Hitler's method of training the youth. Hitler sure set an example along that line. He had the soldiers when he wanted them.

The little boy was prowling around the pantry when his mother came in. "William" she said severely, "It is a good thing I came in here."

"Sure is, ma," said Willie. "I was just about to give away to temptation."

One good thing can be said in favor of Mr. Willkie. He has for years tried to protect the investments of the people against the assaults of their own government.

"When it comes to work," said a speaker the other day, "I like to do nothing better."

We know a one-armed man who can roll a cigarette better than he can do anything else.

A local man has a card in his office that says: "Help me this day to keep my nose out of other people's business." That would be asking the impossible in many cases, but it's a fine thing to have faith.

SHE'D SUFFOCATE

"Ah," breathed the girl ecstatically, as the handsome sailor planted a kiss on her perfect lips. "This is heavenly. I'll hold my breath evey time you kiss me. Do you think that is too forward of me?"

"Gosh, no," said the frightened sailorman. "That would be sheer suicide."

It is stated that the American dollar will buy food for a week for one person in Mexico now. Just think of the fine living for those who come across the border from Mexico into the United States and enjoy our wage and hour law.

It has been said that all women are congenital match-makers but those observing good taste conduct under cover such offensive campaigns as are in the interest of their own daughters.

Quite the silliest mother of my acquaintance bores her friends to distraction with her boasts as to her seventeen-year-old daughter's sex appeal and love conquests.

"Come, take a peep at Jacqueline and her latest beau," she said to me last night. "Don't they look cute?" And he's the fourth she's had on her string within a week. The other girls wonder how she does it."

I knew that she was about to add that Jacqueline inherited her "umph" from her mamma. But I managed to escape that additional agony.

AND GOOD REASON

"I am afraid," said a woman to her husband, "you do not love me any more—at least not as much as you used to."

He wanted to know why, and she told him: "Because you always let me get up and start the breakfast now."

"Nonsense, my dear," he told her; "your getting up to start the breakfasts makes me love you all the more."

Breakit Jently tells about the social workers who called on a night watchman.

"I certainly hope you do not waste your substance on riotous living," she said to the watchman. "I'm sure you would be interested in the new bank that is starting and thought you might deposit your wages there. By the way, what do you do with your wages?"

"I don't mind telling," said the watchman. "I get $18 a week. After I've paid the rent, the grocery bill, the milkman, the butcher and got what I need for Myrtle and the five kids—then I'll tell you what I do I deposit the money in barrels. Generally I use sugar barrels They're bigger, you know. But if I can't get them I use flour barrels"

"Why do you want two?" asked a friend who overheard the conversation.

"I know it, ma'am," said the maid. "I just saw your husband as I came in."

"We want what we want when we want it," is a well known slogan. To which we might add that when we get it we want more.

U. S. Fights Shy Of Soviet Proposal
Won't Join Them In Curbing Japanese
Steer Clear Of Entangling Alliances

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Official Washington isn't taking at all enthusiastically to the Foreign Policy association's suggestion of some sort of an understanding between the United States and Russia to curb Japan on the Asiatic mainland and to safeguard islands in Asiatic waters against a threatened Japanese seizure.

American officialdom is ready enough to admit that it thinks the Japs need curbing, but it doesn't fancy the idea of any entangling international bargain, and least of all a bargin involving this country with Russia.

Nevertheless, the Foreign Policy association argues very cogently that Russia is the one and only country which has not only a prime interest in putting brakes upon Japanese ambitions but also, in all probability, the capacity just now to lend a fairly efficient hand toward such an end's accomplishment.

The association has, to be sure, no official status. It's purely a private organization. However, it does possess a first-rate investigational service, and its reports are respectfully listened to, although, in the present case, not always altogether acquiescently. Still, it isn't entirely ignored even now. Its recommendation at least is under discussion.

Its analysts don't contend that Soviet Russia ordinarily can class as a suitable collaborator with Uncle Samuel. Their only point is that, at this particular juncture, it's a convenient and natural one. All they advocate is temporary co-operation.

Chronically Jealous

For obvious reasons Japan and Russia are chronically jealous of one another—actually at war part of the time; always at least on the ragged edge of it.

Now, if the mikado should gain complete control in China, Russia's danger immediately would become imminent. The United States wouldn't like it, but it simply would be dreadful for the Russians.

Consequently, the latter are doing their best to supply the Chinese with war materials, to go on fighting. It's inconvenient, though. Transportation's inadequate. If the Russians could get so much as moral support from America, they'd be glad of it.

Today, under cover of the European situation, the Japs seem about ready to grab French Indo-China and British Hongkong. Indirectly, that also will be bad for Russia. It will be worse for Britain and France, to lose their colonies, but they can't do anything about it; they already are swamped in Europe. It will be bad for America, too, since we don't want the Japs to become too super-predominant on their side of the Pacific; we've got interests there also.

Next thing, if he pre-empts all the eastern Asiatic mainland, it's foreseen that the mikado will go after the Dutch East Indies (whence we get our tin and rubber), the Philippines, maybe Australia and New Zealand, possibly India, and (who knows!) perhaps, after awhile Hawaii.

Tokio's Rather Sassy

It goes almost without saying that it will pay Uncle Sam to nip such a program in the bud. Secretary Hull aready has hinted as much to Tokio, which has been rather sassy in its rejoinder.

So the question arises:

Suppose we have to make quite a formidable show of strength against Nippon? What support will we get?

It's a miracle that China's hung on as long as it has. Britain's groggy. France is licked. Germany and Italy are supposed to have said to the Japs, "Take whatever you like in the Orient."

But Russia's stake against the Japs is vital. The Soviets, it's true, seem rather incompetent fighters. Still, they have the numbers and resources to keep the Japs considerably precoccupied, threatening them from Siberia and out of China. They can't be much help at sea but they're a factor to the landward. Comrade Stalin does, indeed, have a sort of a pact with Herr Hitler, but no diplomat believes that the former cares a hoot for it.

The Foreign Policy association's thesis, then, is:

"Assume that we turn hard-boiled toward the Japs? Won't it worry 'em to realize that the Russians are due to jump on their backs the minute they tell us to go to hades?"

The association doesn't express itself quite like this, but that's its essence.

Afraid They've Smelt It

Washington, July 22.

THE thing that makes thoughtful Democrats apprehensive, and even perturbs the more realistic of the White House aides who ran the convention for the President, is the uneasy feeling that the country generally has sensed the false pretense with which the gathering was saturated from start to finish.

IT IS certainly true that not a generation has there been a convention of either party in which the fakery was so thinly disguised. Perhaps, the American people are not very discerning in these matters. Slow to suspect their heroes of duplicity, they are apt to accept at face value the statements and postures of popular men in high positions. Unquestionably, they do swallow an almost incredible amount of demagogic bunk. But so crude and rancid was the article served in Chicago that it seems impossible they should not at least have smelt it, even if they did not wholly understand it.

TAKE, for example, the three most clearly fraudulent of the convention's features: First, there was the insistence that Mr. Roosevelt had been "drafted" and that the "draft" was by acclamation. Neither of those things was true, and no one knew their untruth better than Mr. Roosevelt and his friends, who had so desperately worked to make them seem true—and failed. It insults the intelligence to speak of the "draft" and the word acclamation just does not apply. He was nominated after more than a year's intensive campaign, in which every possible wire was pulled and very kind of Federal pressure applied by his most intimate associates, members of his cabinet and closest advisers—all with his knowledge and consent. In the movement—also with his knowledge and consent—were the four most notorious machine bosses in the country—Hague, Guffey, Kelly and Flynn.

WITH all this—none of which can be denied—although frantic efforts were made, it was found impossible to prevent 150 votes from being cast against the third-term nomination in the convention. It was found impossible, too, to prevent an anti-third-term resolution from being offered on the floor, though it was quickly smothered by strong arm presiding officer tactics. And, it was found impossible to prevent Senator Carter Glass, the most distinguished Democrat in the United States, from warning the convention against a third-term nomination and nominating a man whom he said, like himself, is opposed to third terms for any president—to wit, Mr. James A. Farley, whose feeling is so strong that he has declined all presidential persuasion to conduct another campaign for him.

SECOND, there was that astounding message of the president's, read to the convention Tuesday night, in which he said he had had neither desire for, nor purpose to obtain, a third nomination, had made no effort in that direction, and wanted the delegates to "feel free" to vote for any candidate they chose. The hypocrisy of that message establishes a record. For three days before it was read he had been conferring about his running mate; at the moment it was read his representatives in Chicago—Mr. Hopkins Mr. Kelly, et al—were putting pressure on the delegates to "draft" Roosevelt and exerting all their forces to drive other candidates out. In these efforts they had his cooperation and advice and were in constant telephonic communication with him over a special wire. In view of the absolutely known facts, the falseness of the message was shocking.

LITTLE BLACK DOG

They used to say when I was small
And didn't like them or the world at all
Or how things were: "It's as plain as plain.
You've whistled that old black dog again!"

They used to say when I wore a scowl:
"That old black dog is about to growl."
If I stamped my foot or I banged a door:
"Well! Well! Here's that old black dog once more!"

At first I was puzzled. I'd look to see
If such a dog really was following me.
And 'twas more than a year before I found out
The sort of a dog they talked about.

But I learned in time when the dog came back
It was always whenever my looks were black
And always whenever in rage I'd fly
The dog they were talking about was I.

WONDER DRUG

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO.—The great weapon on the side of humanity on Europe's blood-soaked battlefields is the wonder drug, sulfanilamide, declared Dr. A. R. Richardson of Stanford Hospital. It's value has a grimmer side, also, Dr. Richardson told the State Dental Association, because its power as an antiseptic saves manpower through halting infection in minor wounds. It ranks in importance with arms and ammunition as an aid to the warring powers.

No Distress Now after her meals

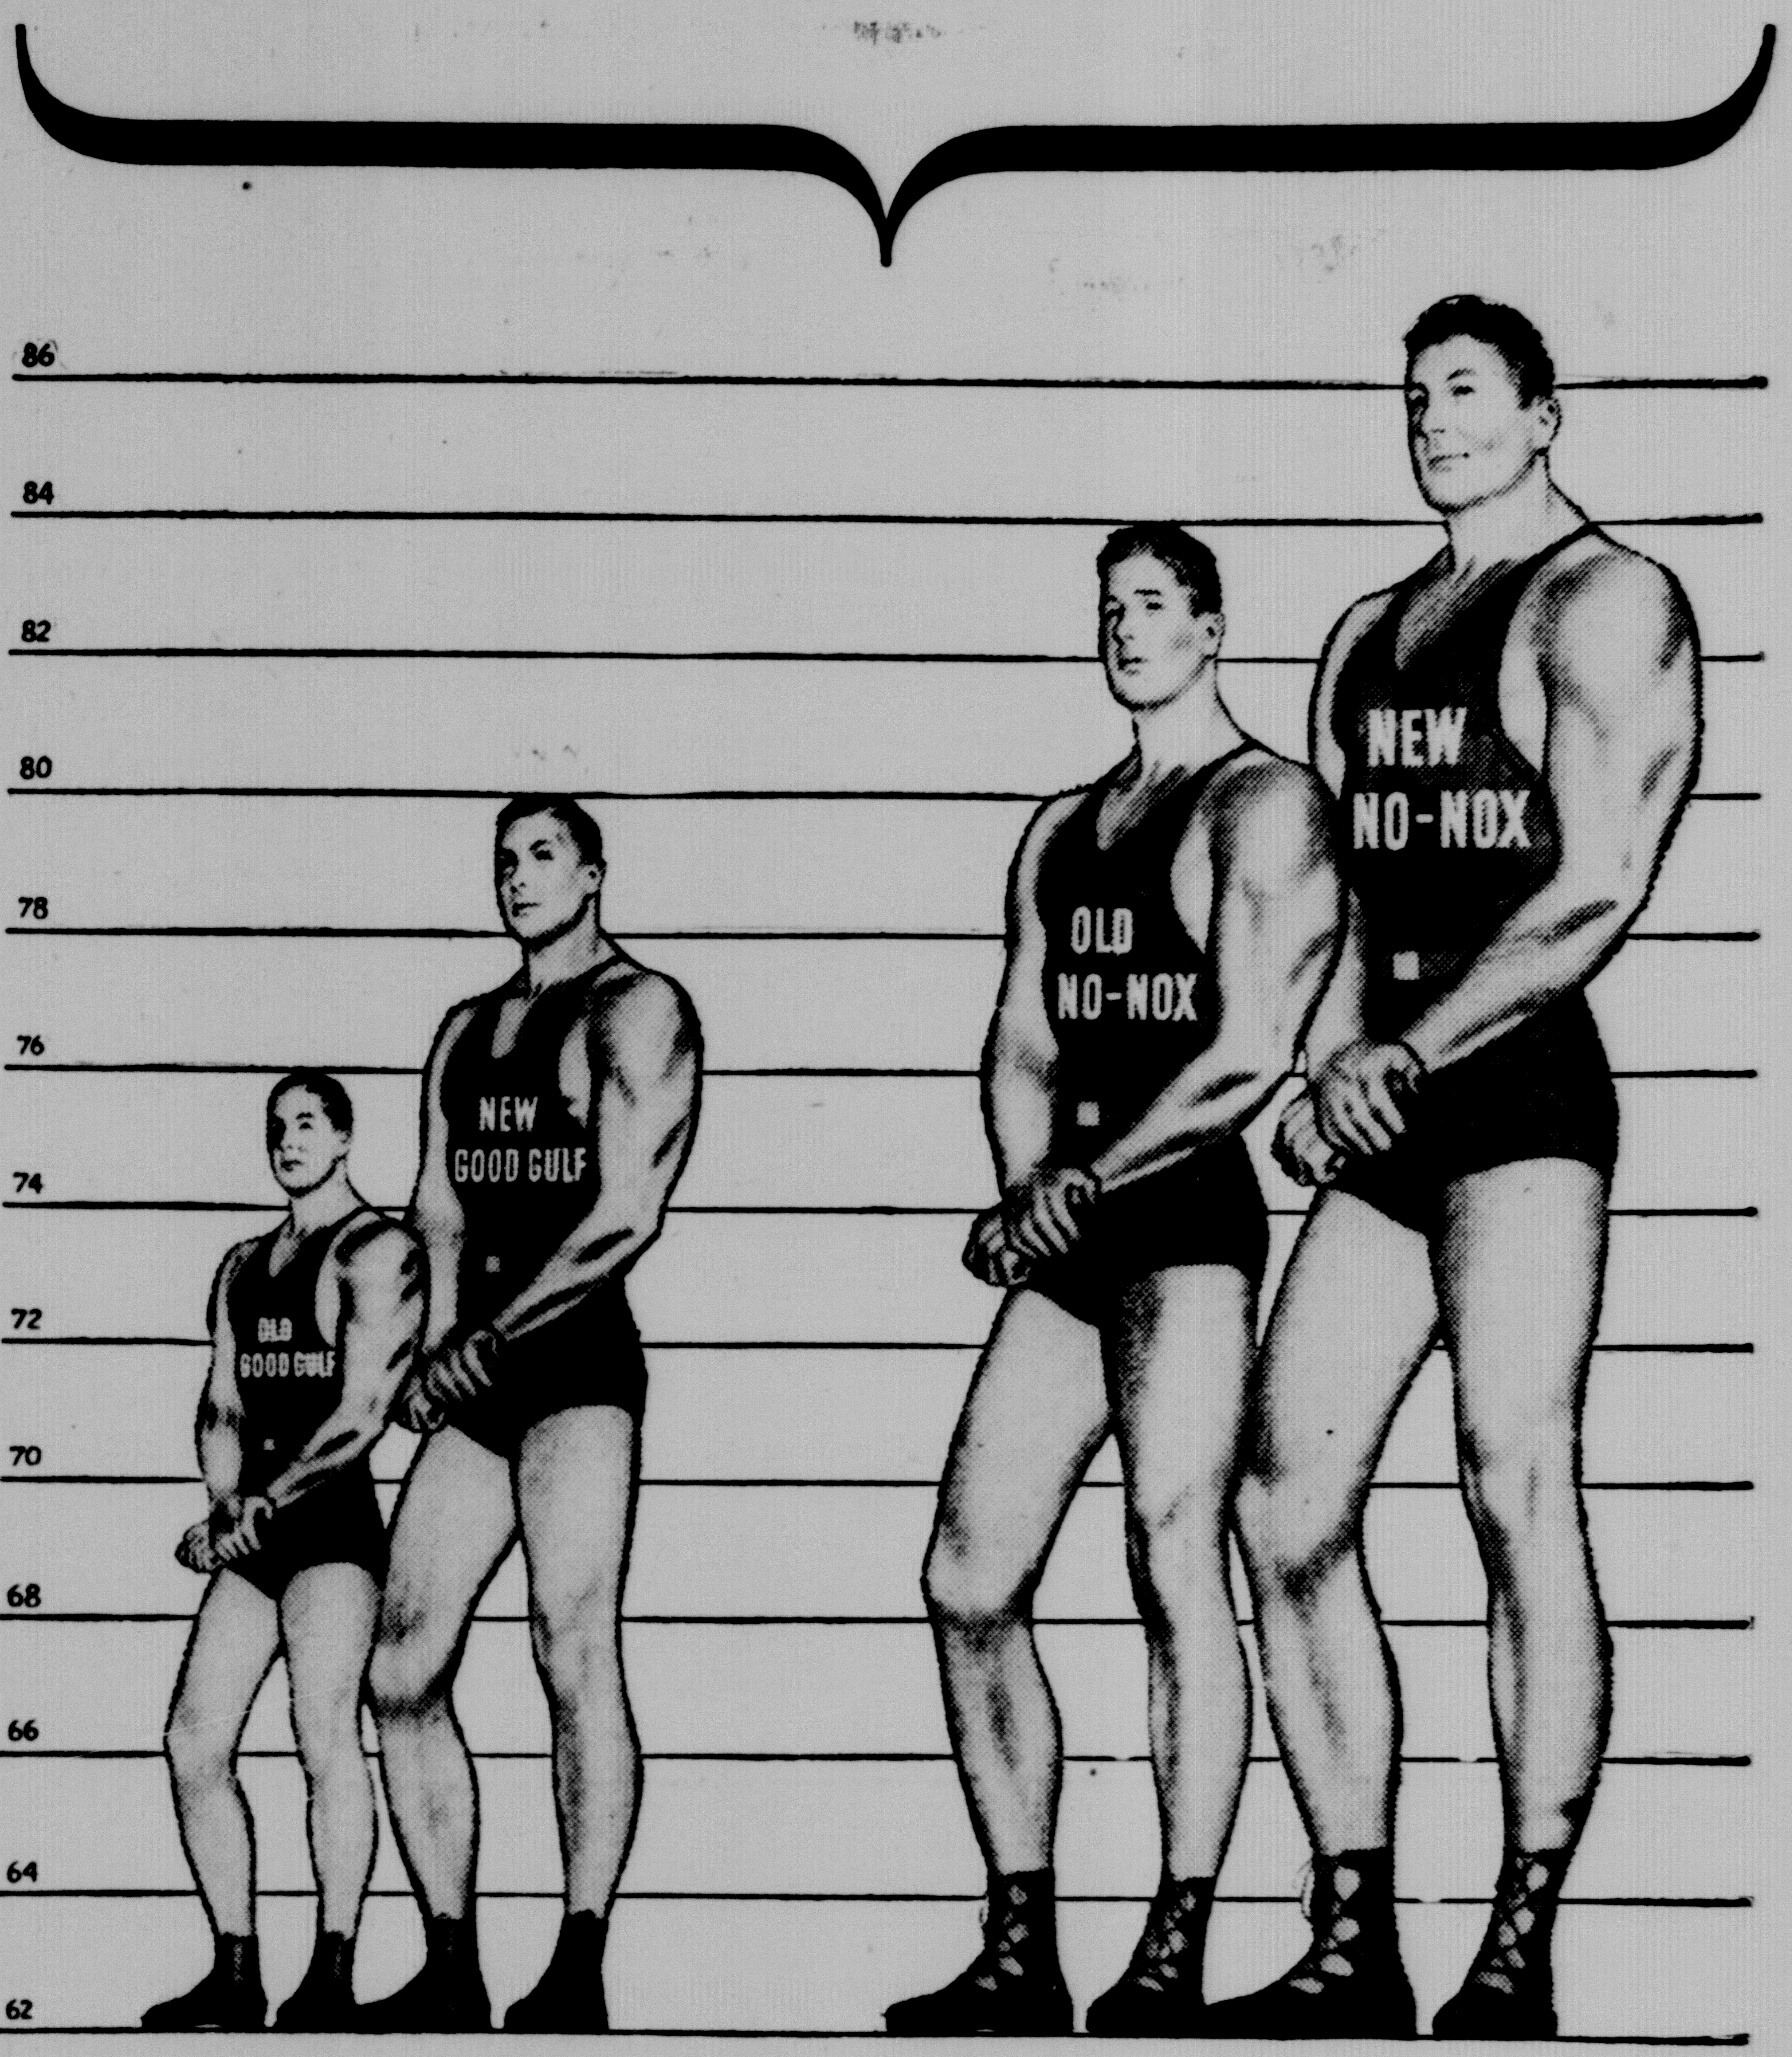
MRS. HENRY ETTER of Wesleyville, Pennsylvania, says, "For years I was constipated, had terrible stomach distress after meals like a heaviness, bloating, gas, sour risings and "heartburn." I took Vendol and got satisfying relief from constipation, then all the other troubles quickly disappeared."

If you suffer from upset stomach, gas, sourness, belching, "heartburn," so nervous you can't sleep, biliousness, headaches, spots before your eyes, bad complexion, pains in your arms, shoulders, back or limbs and other symptoms when they are due to constipation or need of a mild kidney diuretic, take Vendol and see how quickly this alkaline extract of Roots and Herbs will give relief. All over this state reliable citizens are praising Vendol, so why don't you get this same relief, too?

VENDOL ROOTS and HERBS WITH ALKALINES

All druggists here sell Vendol and is highly recommended by Eckerd's of New Castle, 118 E. Washington St.

Huge Improvement in Gulf Gasolines



To measure the quality of a gasoline, no hocus-pocus is needed.

There is a scientific test that shows the comparative anti-knock value of any motor fuel.

The shorter figure above represents the former "mark" in that test of GOOD GULF, one of the best regular-priced gasolines in America. But . . . hold your hat! The taller figure shows you the precise improvement in the NEW GOOD GULF, now stepped-up tremendously. What superb performance this power-packed fuel will deliver in your modern, high-compression engine!

But hang on to that hat again as you look at the other figure! It shows how much GULF NO-NOX has been lifted over its old high. And when you consider that the old NO-NOX was knock-proof under all normal driving conditions—that was no easy improvement to make!

The Great Game Of Politics

ing. Not even a president should be privileged to perpetrate so obvious a fraud without having it branded. Some of his own friends were appalled at its boldness. One of his staff journalistic admirers—Mr. Ray Clapper—denounced it as untruthful and wrote on Wednesday that "Up to the time of that message I have had faith in Mr. Roosevelt. I have so no longer."

A THIRD piece of fakery, less important but rather shameful, was contained in that paragraph of the Roosevelt speech of acceptance in which he spoke of the "great affection" he always has had—and always will have—for "my dear old friend, Jim Farley." This buttering of Mr. Farley, whose open opposition to a third term made the "draft" ridiculous and to whom, four weeks ago he made known both his desire and purpose to take the nomination, was obviously an effort to put Mr. Farley in a position where he would have to reply in the same cordial terms. It was a cheap piece of insincerity—an effort to placate a man whom he has treated badly but whose support he now once more needs. The truth is that between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Farley, today, regardless of the mutual esteem expressions which will be in their respective letters of resignation and acceptance, there exists neither a trace of affection nor friendship. Instead, there is distaste, distrust and dislike—and has been for a long time. Mr. Farley is resigning from the cabinet and has refused to run a third-term fight because of a profound conviction that a third term is bad for the party, and bad for the country. His "support" will be perfunctory and for party regularity reasons only—and everybody knows it.

AND the final piece of deception was in the reasons the president gave for making the "sacrifice" at the "call" of his party and because his conscience would not permit him to shirk this "duty." It seems incredible that the people as a whole will not detect the truth back of those noble words. It is too much to assume that they will not know that the "call" was a spurious call, manufactured and arranged by his job-holding aides and the four machine bosses, in whose efforts he connived by maintaining exactly the attitude best calculated to promote their success. The people generally, it would seem, can hardly help discern behind those eloquent arguments about duty, conscience, sacrifice and "the call" the basic fact—to wit, that the immense egotism of the man, combined with the itch to hold on to his power, has convinced Mr. Roosevelt that there is no other individual in the nation fit to govern it. When all these things are added up, there seems solid ground for the apprehensions of the aforesaid thoughtful Democrats that awareness of the false pretense with which the whole third term effort reeks will permeate the country. There is reason to think it has.

Conducted by John D. Thompson, boys' work director, the school closed Saturday with a hike and a dinner at the "Y".

An ardent iceman is Ernest Erhardt, of Chicago, whose wife Anna, recently left him and is suing for divorce. In an attempt to win her back, Mrs. Erhardt told Judge Ruodlph Desort, Ernest followed her every morning when she boarded a trolley on the way to work and trailed the street car in his ice truck, shouting endearments. The court ordered Ernest to cease.

Auto Tests To Be Held Tuesday

Applicants For Driving License Must Appear Between 9 A. M.-4 P. M.

HOLD TESTS HERE ONCE EACH WEEK

Another step forward in highway safety was reached today when Secretary of Revenue William J. Hamilton, Jr., of Harrisburg announced that improved facilities for handling applicants seeking drivers licenses have been made and from now on more time will be spent with each applicant with a view toward an even better and more exhaustive test. Tests will be held here Tuesday between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. in Sampson St.

Statisticians of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the Department of Revenue pointed out that the next three months will probably bring the largest number of applications for learners permits of the whole year, a greater number than last year it was expected.

The month of August 1939, saw the greatest number of applicants when nearly 25,000 sought drivers licenses. July and September ran close seconds with 20,570, during the former month and slightly more than 20,000 during the latter.

Instructions for applicants are as follows:

Applicants must have in their possession on appearance at place of examination (a) unexpired learner's permit (b) Registration Certificate for car to be used in examination.

Applicants must be accompanied by licensed operator who is required to be in possession of a valid operator's license card.

Motor vehicles presented for use in examination must be in safe running condition and comply with the law in every respect.

The examination will consist of a practical test to determine the applicant's ability to operate a motor vehicle safely and properly; an oral test to determine his knowledge of the Pennsylvania Vehicle Code and rules of the highways; a test of vision, and, when deemed advisable, a physician and mental examination. Applicants will be required to read sufficient English to interpret traffic, warning and direction signs and must be able to distinguish colors used in directions and warning signals. Deaf applicants must have the motor vehicle in which they wish to demonstrate their driving ability equipped with a rear view mirror. All motor vehicles in which the view of the rear of the driver's seat is obscured must be equipped with rear view mirrors.

When the course over which the driving examination is to be taken is in a dangerous condition, due to rain, snow, hail, etc., the applicant may be required to equip the rear wheels of the motor vehicle with chains.

Applicants will be subjected to such driving test as may be deemed necessary and expedient in the determination of ability to operate a motor vehicle skillfully and safely. Practice on "driving course only" is not recommended as sufficient training. to successfully complete this examination.

Applicants will be expected to be sufficiently familiar with traffic regulations and problems in safe driving to satisfactorily pass an oral examination.

EAST BROOK

TO PRESENT COMEDY

"Dotty and Daffy," a three-act comedy, will be presented in the East Brook high school auditorium on Friday evening, July 26, at 8 o'clock by a cast made up of members of the Y. P. C. U. of the United Presbyterian church.

In the play Dotty, aged 20, and Daffy, aged 18, in order to help their beautiful mother, a widow of 40, catch a rich husband and save the family from the poorhouse, disguise themselves as little girls, so that Mama Phyllis' suitor, a supposedly wealthy widower, may be deceived that mama is 11 years younger than she is. Their fiances, however, a resourceful pair of brothers, incensed to see Mama Phyllis is jilting their uncle, dress up as little boys and present themselves to her suitor as her 13-year-old twin sons. Hilda, the Swedish maid; Molly, the Irish cook, and Hopkins, the English butler, add much to the merriment.

Wonder how school histories will manage to praise us for remaining "neutral" while praying for England to save us.

Walter A. Jones Is In Hospital

Chairman Of Turnpike Commission In West Penn Hospital For Rest

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—Walter A. Jones, chairman of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission which is driving to completion the new Pittsburgh-Harrisburg super-highway, had to take time out for a "much needed rest" in West Penn Hospital today.

Jones entered the hospital late last week, International News Service learned.

His physician, Dr. W. F. Weaber, dismissed reports that the recent Democratic senatorial primary candidate was seriously ill.

"He has had a little breakdown from going too hard," Dr. Weaber said, "and is in the hospital just for a needed rest."

The "dream highway" director should be discharged in about a week, he declared, adding:

"As a matter fact, he has been using the telephone all day."

Jones attended the Democratic national convention at Chicago as an observer and as a backer of Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator for the party's vice presidential nomination.

JOE DI MAGGIO — He topped both major leagues in batting last season

"BUCKY" WALTERS — He won more games in 1939 than any other pitcher in the majors

GEORGE CASE — He stole more bases last year than any other man in the majors

THEY'VE GOT THOSE EXTRAS THAT WIN BALL GAMES
Yes, it's the extras that carried Joe DiMaggio, "Bucky" Walters, and George Case to the top. The extras of slower burning won them to Camel cigarettes

HE STEPS UP to the plate, and he looks like 'most any other ball player. But when that bat of his comes crashing through—man, look out! It may be the ball game. Experts call him one of the greatest natural hitters in the game. Where...how he gets all that extra power into his bat, even Joe DiMaggio himself can't say. But you can easily see below how he gets the extras in his cigarette. "I smoke Camels for extra mildness and extra flavor," says Joe.

NO, "Bucky" Walters has no magic pitch. The magic's in his extra pitching sense—the extra degree of control. It shows in a change of pace that shackles the mightiest of bats. Those are the extras in his pitching. In his cigarette, "Bucky" will tell you: "Extra mildness and extra coolness win with me. So I smoke slower-burning Camels." Yes, Camel's costlier tobaccos and slower way of burning mean extra pleasure—and extra smoking (see below, left).

EXTRA MILDNESS
EXTRA COOLNESS
EXTRA FLAVOR
● In recent laboratory tests, CAMELS burned 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested —slower than any of them. That means, on the average, a smoking plus equal to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

Smokers: SAVE THE COST OF THE STATE CIGARETTE TAX
Smokers who live in communities where certain state cigarette taxes are in effect can save the cost of the tax—and, in some instances, more—through smoking Camels. (See panel above.) When you are a Camel smoker, you get this unique economy—and all the extra enjoyment of cooler, milder smoking—the fragrance and delicate taste of finer, more costly tobaccos.

YES, it's the Case of the stolen base—George Case. Extra smartness in getting the jump on the pitcher . . . extra speed in getting there ahead of the ball—those two big extras have won George Case acclaim as the "fastest base-runner in the game today." Extras do make a difference—even in cigarettes.

With George Case—with millions of others—the extras of costlier tobaccos in slower-burning Camels are the difference between just smoking and smoking pleasure at its best. So turn to Camels. Enjoy mildness, coolness, and flavor —with an extra measure of each . . . and extra smoking (see left).

WAR CROWDS LAKE LINERS

Bookings for Lake Erie sailings this summer are "away ahead of 1939 reservations" according to one travel agent here. Europe's war has closed many oceans to voyagers and as a result they are cruising the Great Lakes. The West Indies cruises, however, remain popular with local residents.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Whiskey never bothers me" said the inebriate.

He was busy at the time counting speckled pink elephants.

Scientists have a new slant on delirium tremens.

They blame it on food deficiency —not alcohol consumed.

In acute delirium tremens, the patient has had insufficient diet.

Continuous, heavy drinkers suffer loss of appetite.

This results in a vitamin B-1 deficiency.

Treatment for delirium tremens calls for this vitamin.

It is injected directly into a vein.

Such treatment reduces recovery time 50 per cent, it is said.

Alcohol is tricky—that way.

A little stimulates appetite—a lot causes loss of appetite.

FLOATING ISLAND

(International News Service)

WILTON, Me.—Floating Islands—Wilton has one. Wilton which won notice because of its upside-down hill, now boasts of a three-acre island which floats about the surface of Wilson pond, and is causing much official concern in the fear it may develop into a navigational menace. The island once part of the mainland broke away from the upper end and has been moving about the pond.

Gets Letter From India Missionary

Dale Wehr of Adams street has received an interesting letter from his aunt, Miss Elizabeth Hay, a missionary, located in Nowgong, India.

Miss Hay is maintained on the field by the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church.

Miss Hay states that she is in good health, and getting along fine.

Among other things she said that she had recently attended a garden party at the home of a friend, Mrs. Clark. The occasion was in honor of a man, a country town druggist, being presented with an award for shooting and killing a man eating tiger.

This fierce beast had killed and devoured a hundred persons within a year. A big reward had been offered by different companies in that vicinity for its destruction.

All the efforts of the Sahibs and police had failed to round up the brute. It was shot, while prowling on the Clark tea garden grounds.

Miss Hay states that these tigers take to seeking human live as their prey after they have lost their teeth.

She reports that there have been several earthquake shocks there recently.

Mail transportation has been slow since the beginning of the war, and Miss Hay states that airmail service is now available to U. S. A. via Marseilles, making the trip in about two weeks.

In her school there has been many cases of whooping cough and measles among the pupils, and she has her "hands full".

She says they had no rain there from October to April.

There are 701.3 persons to the square mile in England.

SECRETARY HULL TO GIVE KEYNOTE FOR CONFERENCE

yesterday with a warning that western hemisphere nations must prepare for "progressive defense" of their common rights.

Spectators entering the Cuban house of representatives, where the conference opened, were closely scrutinized and some were searched.

The conference scarcely began befort it became evident that all the Latin American countries are working in complete harmony with the United States save Argentina, which is following its traditional policy of careful opposition to commitments on inter-American action. Brazil is seeking to dissuade Argentina from this attitude.

Following President Laredo Bru's warning that the western hemisphere is entering a phase of "alarm and menace," the Havana Post, reflecting the attitude of Cuba, stated:

Calls For Good Faith

"The time has come for great sacrifices on the part of all western hemisphere nations. Surely the issue at stake warrants subordinating national interest in favor of continent interests.

"The time calls for good faith, unity of purpose, courage to unite as one in the defense of the Americas and of the righteous cause of liberty handed down to the free peoples of the Americas by men who dared all to make this continent a citadel of freedom and democracy."

Hull visited various Latin American foreign ministers to build up their confidence in United States military and economic support.

Some Latin American delegates in their preliminary talks have expressed belief that the chief issue of this conference is a choice between the United States and Germany, and according to well informed Brazilian sources, most of the republics are siding with Washington.

A spokesman for the Brazilian delegation told International News Service:

"We realize our economic life is bound up in our sales of coffee to the United States, which amount to more than $10,000,000 annually."

Another and in a sense similar view was expressed by a Cuban army officer, who declared:

"Our entire reliance is placed in the army and navy expansion program of the United States."

NO SLACKS FOR CO-EDS

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS.—Slacks are for the summer resort and not the college campus, according to Mrs. Adele C. Starbird, dean of women at Washington University who ruled that co-eds must leave the wearing of trousers to the men. Several of the co-eds appeared in ski-pants. When a number of them affected beach attire the edict was handed down. The ban was extended not only to slacks, but to riding breeches and all other divided garments worn in lieu of skirts.

Reds Increase Lead In League

Win Twin Bill From Giants To Increase Lead To Five Full Games

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, July 22.—The only thing that will beat good pitching is better pitching, as someone once remarked.

Derringer got his 13th victory yesterday by holding the New York Giants to two hits in the opener of a double header and the veteran Jim Turner scored his seventh win in the nightcap to maintain the Reds' custom of sweeping two a day whenever the opportunity is presented. The scores were 6 to 1 and 4 to 2, a home run by Babe Young spoiling Derringer's shutout.

Reds Increase Lead

And with the double win the Reds moved five games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the standings, the latter beating the St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 1 behind Fred Fitzsimmons, then losing by 5 to 2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates trounced the Boston Bees, 5 to 3 and 16 to 2, while the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Chicago Cubs, 8 to 2, then lost 8 to 5 to complete the National league slate.

In the American league, the race swung further in the direction of a duel between the leading Detroit Tigers and the second place Cleveland Indians. Before 68,590 fans packed into Yankee Stadium, the Tigers swept their three-game series with the Yankees by 4 to 3 and 3 to 2 while the Indians turned back the Red Sox, 3 to 2 and 2 to 0.

The Tigers thus maintained their 1½ game edge over the Indians, while the Red Sox dropped five games behind the pace and the Yankees seven games back.

Indians Win Two

Highlight of the Yankee clashes came in the fifth inning of the second game when Tommy Henrich lashed a ball down the right field line that drove two runs home only to be called back when Umpire Joe Rue ruled the ball foul and immediately became the target for a pop bottle and fruit barrage.

In the Boston clashes Bob Feller pitched his 15th win of the season in the opener to stay in front of the pack in victories, while Dobson turned in the afterpiece shutout, abbreviated to eight innings on account of the Sunday law.

The Chicago White Sox beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 10 to 8 and 7 to 2, and the St. Louis Browns downed the Washington Senators, 8 to 4, then lost by 5 to 4.

Girls Softball Games Tuesday

There will be three games Tuesday in the Girls softball league to end the first-half. The games will start at 6 o'clock.

The schedule for Tuesday:

West Pittsburg vs Checkers, Glasser field.

Booker T. Washingtons vs Arenas, Dean Park.

Liberty Stars vs Junedales, Hickory Heights.

Pop Bottles Fly At Yankee Park

Decision By Umpire Rue Brings Protest In Form Of Bottles From Stands

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 22.—The area around home plate and in the vicinity of the bleachers at Yankee stadium today still bore the marks of the most riotous demonstration put on by New York baseball fans, following a decision by Umpire-in-Chief Joe Rue in yesterday's double-header between the Detroit Tigers and the Yankees.

The fireworks were started by berserk pop bottle and fruit-throwing members of a jammed throng of 68,590 in the fifth inning of the second game after they had watched the Tigers score four runs in the ninth of the opener to avert a shutout and beat the Yanks, 4 to 3.

With the Tigers leading by 2 to 0 in the fifth of the nightcap, Joe Gordon hit a home run and Russo and Red Rolfe singled. Then, with two men out, Tommy Henrich caromed one off Rudy York's glove at first base, driving in Russo and Rolfe for a 3 to 2 Yankee edge, and going all the way to third on what he though was a triple.

Umpire Showered

A girder-shaking roar greeted all this, but as quickly turned to angry boos when Umpire Rue called Henrich's drive foul, bringing Manager Joe McCarthy and Yankee players to the plate for heated protests.

They had no sooner departed the immediate vicinity of the umpire than he was made the target of a shower of debris from the stands, several bottles barely missing him, with the bleacherites joining in the barrage to litter the outfield.

A squad of policemen restored order, and after the field had been cleared up the Tigers went on to another victory, 3 to 2, to sweep the three-game series.

KISSELLA TEAM WIN

The Kissella team won a Gaston Park Midget League game on Saturday 9 to 3 over the St. Johns team. The winning hurler was Fannin, the loser was Bob George.

The feature game takes the Slovaks to West Pittsburg where Manager Danny DeGenova and his "Gas Housers" are rarin' to go. The loss to the Indies yesterday, 5 to 4, only aroused the "Gas House" team all the more. It will be Lefty Tonsetic on the hill for West Pittsburg and Leroy Anderson, the Slovak ace, is ready to pitch. This should be a humdinger of a battle.

The other city league game tonight will take the league leading Lawrence Indies to the Croton field, where Manager Charley Schetrom and the Crotons hope to crash the win column for the first time since the second holf started. Majocha or Savage will face Pepe or Stone.

Apostoli Starts Comeback Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—San Francisco's noted "battling bell hop" Fred Apostoli, who went back to New York and won fame, a small fortune and the world's middleweight title before taking a terrific fistic nosedive, tonight hits the comeback trail in his old home town.

He will enter the ring against dale Sparr, an ex-navy fighter, as a 2½ to 1 favorite.

GET IN TOUCH

The manager of the Bell-X softball team is asked to get in touch with either President Howard Warnock of the Utility league by calling 1820, or Charles "Chuck" Usselton at the Water Company. There is an opening for the Bell-X if they care to join the Utility league for the second half.

Thirty-Two Boys Enjoy Life At Kiwanis Camp

ELLWOOD CITY, July 22.—Thirty-two boys ranging in age from 11 to 14 years; some smiling, some serious; some Nordic, some Latin types, "Young America" but all with an undeniable look of contentment and satisfaction on their faces.

Where? The Kiwanis club boys' camp last week. For four years the Kiwanis club has financed this project for "less chance" boys at the Boy Scout Camp Thompson immediately following the close of three weeks of camping activities for scouts.

This group of congenial youngsters has the same food, facilities, recreation, program and leaders as the scouts.

Their day begins at 7:15 a. m., however cabin leaders find many of the boys awake about 4 o'clock after a refreshing night's sleep in the well ventilated cabins situated among the pines on the crest of the hill overlooking the natural amphitheater, where the dining room and craft shop are located.

Revelry is followed by colors and the complete ceremony of the scouts is carried out for these boys in a highly impressive manner. Honors of the ceremony are awarded to the boys who have remembered about teeth, ears and general appearance but because the patriotic service is one in which the entire group takes pride, the camp director thoughtfully passes the honors among all the boys.

Breakfast follows and the varied menus are most tempting. An abundance of nourishing food is stressed and everyone is allowed all they can eat. Everyone takes their turn at kitchen duty. Fifteen gallons of milk and 25 loaves of bread are required every day and give a slight idea of the amount of food that is consumed. "Cook-outs" are enjoyed at various times throughout the week to give the lads experience in cooking and fire building.

After breakfast, details follow and this is a 45-minute period during which various groups are assigned to duties about the camp, such as picking stones out of the swimming hole, cutting underbrush out of the pines and cleaning the grounds.

To break down the first natural instinct to kill snakes, insects and other small animals, the campers are taken on long hikes each morning with the usefulness of plant and animal life being explained. One group is taken to the fish hatchery at Marion Farms, another along the stream and still another to a wild berry patch near the camp. Joe Connell is the nature leader and he is a most able one. In his section, he has a collection of snakes, ant communities, turtles, butterflies, snails, etc. These boys, not being scouts, have had no experience in nature study and they are acquiring much useful information about wild life.

Bead work leather craft, archery, wood splitting and a host of other recreation facilities are afforded the youth and they are given much opportunity to follow their own desires.

There is swimming twice a day in the dammed part of Brush creek. The pool is about six feet deep and provides ample opportunity for the healthful diversion. The popular buddy system of swimming, along with the tag system, is used to eliminate any possibility of drowning. About 12 of these boys are unable to swim and about six of them have fully mastered the art in the week. They are given special instruction.

In the evening, there is a huge camp fire about which singing and impromptu programs are greatly enjoyed. Some nights various groups are taken on hikes and have individual camp fires. The day ends at 9:30 with taps.

For discipline, the "hot line" is used. However, it hasn't been neccessary this year in the Boy Scout or Kiwanis camps but the mention of it is a most effective means of eliminating misbehavior. There hasn't been a single case of homesickness.

The real and definite success of the undertaking is due the camp staff who unselfishly and unstintingly give their time and ability to this worthwhile venture and are to be accorded the most sincere praise of the entire community.

They are: Camp director, Howard B Gills; assistant, Harold Burry; cabin leaders, Kenneth Powell, Forest Dobson, John Cartwright, Paul Rossman and Bill Neely; nature, Joe Connell; craft, Harry Shirey; dining hall manager, Don Thompson; storekeeper, George Burt, and cooks, Mrs. Worrell and Mrs. Ulrich.

Wurtemburg U. P.

About 150 members and friends of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian Sunday school gathered on Saturday at the cool church grounds for the yearly outing.

At noon a tempting dinner was served by women of the church in charge of the Harriet Gordon class.

At 6 o'clock, the assembly partook of a sumptuous dinner served by Mrs. Pearl Reed, Mrs. Mary Hazen, Mrs. Fanchion Cole, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, Miss Lyla Vogler and their aides. The invocation was given by Mrs. Matilda McFate.

If everyone in the community that makes a habit of attending a movie during the week will select Thursday afternoon or evening at the Manos theatre, the quota will be reached for Ellwood City which incidentally has never failed to push over any worthwhile drive such as the Red Cross war relief drive.

Wright Pitches, Bats Ellport To Victory Over Elks

American Legion Junior All Stars Defeated Saturday By Tarentum Nine

ELLWOOD CITY, July 22.—Johnny Wright, Ellport Red Sox ace moundsman, proved that his one-hit victory over the Clover Farms last Tuesday wasn't merely a "flash in the pan" by setting down the Elks with six hits on Saturday to gain his team a 6-3 triumph, their second without defeat in the second half. He also led his team's 12-hit attack on Curtis, getting a walk, two singles and a homer with one aboard in four trips to the plate.

Pavic and Lordi of the winners also featured with three singles apiece. Hertzog and Higgins with a brace of singles each, and McKinney with a double led the Elk stickers.

Wright's homer with Pavic on first came in the fifth with the score tied at 3-3, and proved to be all the Ellport team needed for victory, but they added another marker for good measure in the final frame by bunching four singles.

The Legion All-Stars motored to Tarentum on Saturday afternoon where they were defeated 8 to 3 by the All-Stars of that place. The victors gained a five run lead in the first four innings while holding the locals scoreless.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TAKE INSTANT MEASURES TO PREVENT INFECTION WHEN CHILD SCRAPES SKIN

However careful you are to watch your children at camp this summer, they are bound to suffer falls, minor cuts and bruises. Although these accidents may seem small at the time, if proper attention isn't given to these cuts and abrasions, complications may set in that make them serious.

In the summer you are usually away from your doctor; often you are away from medical attention at all. Caring for these injuries devolves upon the mother or father or some member of the family. For this reason it is important that supplies be taken along on the holiday to take care of these emergencies.

First-aid kits are sold in all drug stores, and most of them are quite complete. If you feel you don't want to spend much money, then remember to bring along some iodine, rolls of bandages, sterile gauze and adhesive tape. These articles are about all you'll need.

A bruise is the least injury your child might get. This injury is painful, if severe, and it may be a bit unsightly, but unless it is unusually severe, there's no need to worry about it. If it happens to be on a knee or elbow or other joint, cold compresses should be applied to reduce swelling.

If, however, in the course of getting the bruise, the child has scrapped off the skin, then the injury should be attended to immediately. In the first place, infection can enter the area once the skin is broken; secondly, if every speck of dirt isn't cleaned out before the new skin heals, a permanent disfiguring mark may be left.

I know a young girl whose great worry was a nasty, black scar on the calf of her leg. As a child, she scraped her leg in cinders, and the wound was bound up and allowed to heal without sufficient cleaning. The result was an irregular black scar that shows up unmistakably through the sheer silk stockings women wear today.

Don't worry if the cleaning process hurts the child a little. There may be cries and squirming, but you will be wise if you make absolutely sure that the wound is clean. After cleasing, apply iodine to the part, and then cover it with a dry bandage and leave it until it is healed.

Ordinary cuts can be treated in this same way. It must be remembered to be thorough in cleaning the wound. If the cut is deep, then a doctor should be consulted. The reason for this is that cuts often become contaminated by contact with the ground and there is danger of tetanus. As I have said, cleansing and the application of iodine is effective, but it is difficult for anyone but a doctor to cleanse a deep cut properly.

Another reason for calling a doctor is that in the case of a deep cut, he will be able to fix it up so the healing won't leave a scar. A few stitches by a doctor can often make the difference between a bad disfigurement and a perfect healing.

Tomorrow—Injuries to the feet.

Young People's Service At Park

Rev. C. T. R. Yeates Delivers Sermon; Quartet From Third U. P. Church Sings

Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, pastor of the Third U. P. church, chose "The Difference That Christ Makes" as the subject for his sermon at the union service in Cascade park Sunday evening.

This was Young People's night and the service was well attended, young people being present from churches of all denominations in the district.

Rev. Yeates, assisted in the service by Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor of the Central Christian church, took as his text, "Whereas once I was blind, now I see", using this in the sense of having spiritual eyes opened.

An added feature was the quartet from the Third U. P. church, composed of Charline Bates, Mary Irene Taylor, Edgar McCown and Raymond Bates, which sang two beautiful selections. The accompanist was Kathryn Newbery, organist at the Third church.

These union services, being held in the Community House at Cascade park each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, are sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association. Next Sunday, the service will be in charge of Rev. Robert Meade Patterson, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church.

Dark Outlook For Democrats Says Sen. Holt

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 22.—"The Democratic party enters the 1940 campaign with the darkest outlook for victory it has had in recent years," Sen. Holt (D) W. Va., said today.

"The president's acceptance speech was such that it threw overboard the plank in the platform for less intervention in the war in Europe."

Holt is sponsor of a senate resolution condemning a third term as president as a threat to American liberties. He said the following factors darken the party's outlook for victory in November: The unprecedented bid for a third term, resignation of James A. Farley as chairman of the Democratic National committee, and the task of getting the party united on the nomination of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, a former Republican, as vice president.

"The vocal and well-publicized interventionists have the advantage of the avenues of communication but they do not control the ballot box, and it will be there that the sentiment against our involvement in the war will be shown," said Holt.

New Dealers Seek Reconciliation With Vice President

Hope To Prevent Open Opposition

Roosevelt Friends Move To Head Off Anti-Third Term Organization

GARNER REMAINS FIRM ON STAND

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Senate New Dealers were trying today to effect a political reconcilation between Vice President Garner and President Roosevelt, in hopes to staving off an organization of anti-third term Democrats.

The movement to patch up differences between Garner and the president was inaugurated without the knowledge of Mr. Roosevelt. Administration New Dealers hope Garner will make an overture of reconciliation to the president, and thereby create the semblance of party harmony so far as southern Democracy is concerned.

Doomed To Failure

Close friends of Garner said this New Deal move is doomed to failure. They insist the Texan remains bitterly opposed to a third term for Mr. Roosevelt or any other president and that he will not modify his position, even for the sake of party harmony.

The president's choice of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, a former Republican, as his running-mate served only to widen the split between Garner and Mr. Roosevelt, the Texan's friends say. They added that if the president had chosen a conservative southern Democrat of long party fealty as his running-mate—a southerner such as Speaker William B. Bankhead or House Leader Sam Rayburn—a reconciliation might have been arranged. Now, the Garnerites say, the nearest Garner can come to a reconciliation is to retire to his Texas home and stay out of the 1940 campaign.

Annenberg was sentenced by Judge James H. Wilkerson despite the fact that he made a civil settlement with the government in which he agreed to pay more than $9,000,000 in back taxes and penalties over a period of seven years. He has already made an $800,000 payment.

Warships With Wings; Death Dealing Rays; Inventions Submitted

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Warships with wings, death dealing secret rays that can melt an airplane motor at high altitude and thimble size explosives that blow up cities.

These are not fantastic weapons of ultra-modern warfare culled from the wages of H. G. Wells but actual "inventions" submitted to the United States government during the past few months.

War and navy officials reported today that the $14,000,000,000 preparedness program has unloosed a deluge of nearly 10,000 letters a week from persons who believe they have perfected superior types of armaments or who have concocted some military plan to make the United States invincible overnight.

Inventor's Field Day

"This is an inventor's field day," commented one high army officer whose desk was piled high with bulky envelopes containing blueprints, documents, briefs, maps, drawings and other material sent in by individuals from all over the nation.

"We are getting more than 1500 letters a day," he explained.

"Nearly everyone of them makes some suggestion on how to improve the national defense. In many cases the sender has invented something he thinks the war department should have. A new gun, maybe, or a tank that includes everything from a kitchen to a showerbath."

The navy is having the same experience, with people eager to contribute their ideas of how to insure American supremacy on the seas with 1,000 mile per hour airplanes, boats that can fly and other fanciful ordnance.

Those who don't send letters call at the departments in person. Most of those coming all the way to Washington to "sell" their ideas to the government are quite peeved when they can't get in to see the secretary of war or the chief of staff for a personal interview.

Both the army and navy, however, make them feel at home and all callers with plans are routed to the proper official who listens with interest.

Two decisions were handed down by Judge Thomas W. Dickey on Saturday.

In the case of the School District against the Boro of Ellwood City against Harry Keller, Max A. Grodem, Reva Grodem and the Fidelity Trust Company as an intervening defendant the rule against the defense for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense is made absolute. The case concerns a lien against some properties in Ellwood City which the defendants claimed was not proper.

In the case of James Dacko against the Cartwright Hardware Company, the verdict of the jury for the plaintiff is upheld and the motions for judgment N. O. V. and a new trial are refused.

This is a case where the plaintiff sent his daughter to the hardware store for a bottle of linseed oil to give an ailing horse. The girl took a bottle home and when Mr. Dacko gave it to his horse he found it was creosote. The animal died. The first trial resulted in a verdict for the defendant. A new trial was granted and the verdict rendered for the plaintiff.

Four applications for certificates of various kinds in the motor transportation field are being heard today in court room 2. Those listed for hearing are Ralph Linstrum, Walter Sharek, Thomas R. McComb and J. R. Brodbeck.

Publicity chairman for the annual picnic was Mrs. Vito Colello.

LOANS
WITHOUT ENDORSERS

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $6.97 a month—See table for other loan plans—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, friendly service.

YOU can get a personal loan—without red tape or delay—if you can repay in small monthly installments. All you do to apply for a loan at Household is to acquaint us with your problem. You need no bankable security—no endorsers or guarantors.

You may repay your loan on any of the schedules shown in the table below. Thus you may choose the payment plan which best fits your own needs and income.

Payments to fit your purse

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.75 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months will also repay a $100 loan.

You will note that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.58 each, or a total of only $106.32, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full.

Same rate to everyone

Installments shown in the table repay everything. These installments include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. This rate is substantially less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law. Household has only this one rate—the same for everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

Simple to borrow

You get your Household Finance loan in a simple, private transaction. We require no stocks or bonds, no salary or wage assignment. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) You are spared the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And no questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives.

Considerate treatment

You may expect every consideration in case of sickness or unemployment while paying on a Household Finance loan. Last year we foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 20,000 loans. This action was taken only as protection against fraud.

If a loan can help you, phone or visit us for further information. No obligation.

NEW YORK, July 22.—New Castle is shown, through vital statistics recently completed by the Census Bureau, to be a healthier community than most. The data is contained in a final report for the entire country covering 1938 and shows that 207 are born in New Castle a year for every 100 who die.

The birth-death ratio for the rest of the country was 166 to 100, and for Pennsylvania, 155 to 100.

There were 1,189 births and 574 deaths in the city during the year a net gain of 615 births.

A proportionately smaller infant mortality rate in New Castle than in other sections also was found. Infants under one year of age, exclusive of stillbirths, died at the rate of 45.4 per 1,000 live births, and at the rate of 51.0 per 1,000 in the nation at large.

New Hatch Bill To Affect Some In Lawrence Co.

Restricts Political Activity Of Persons In Employ Of State Governments

With the new Hatch bill signed by President Roosevelt, over 2,000,000 employes of state governments in the Nation come under the same ban as Federal employes insofar as participation in political campaigns is concerned. They cannot serve as party officials, or as delegates to national conventions or engage in political activity.

The new Hatch act bars all state employes whose salaries or wages are paid in whole or in part by the Federal government. This is taken to mean any department of the state that is allotted money by the Federal government.

In Lawrence County this will include all state highway employes as the Federal government allots money each year to the state for highway purposes. The Department of Agriculture is another department which gets Federal allotments. Departments which are thought to be exempt as yet are the Department of Revenues, State Treasurer, Auditor-General and probably several others.

Under the Hatch act no person or corporation can contribute more than $5,000 to a campaign and the total cost of a national campaign shall not exceed $3,000,000.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

This is the time of year when relatives usually come to visit . . . if they are going to come. Also the time when the grocery bills run sky high. The corner grocer thinks something is wrong at our house . . . we think he's suspicious that we are buying out his store with the idea of starting one ourselves . . . his thoughts have no real foundation as we have a hard enough time trying to run this column.

* * *

A lecture was scheduled the other night under the title of "space-time" . . . my dirty uncle said he thought he would go . . . upon returning he was questioned about the lecture and he replied he was disappointed . . . they didn't say a word about the parking problem and the meters.

* * *

Hotels we read, lose thousands of dollars annually in fixtures carried off by patrons . . . Honesty, it would appear, is not the guest policy.

* * *

It's getting around that time when the local and national politicians will start making the rounds. Some will have plenty to say, some of it will be worthwhile and some will not bear repeating. Weigh each office carefully and then pick the man you think best suited for the job. . . . pick a man you know, by that we mean, know what he has done constructively in the past, where he comes from, does he pay his bills promptly . . . no one can run a government office if he is a dead beat . . . once there was a fable, it went something like this: Once upon a time there was a politician who, after retiring from political office, didn't believe the world was simply panting for his personal memoirs.

* * *

This raising of a child is somewhat of a problem . . . at least that is what certain noted educator tries to tell the thousands of mothers within these United States. Mothers, according to this noted educator, should never say "No!" to a child . . . wonder what is to come . . . are we to be a country of Yes Mammas?

* * *

If you are planning on a vacation by auto be sure you check your car carefully before starting out . . . then drive carefully . . . you are not in such a big hurry that you can't take time to be careful.

Stock Market Trading Dull

Market Is Irregular As Week Starts, Steel Firmness Does Not Carry Through

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, July 22.—The stock market today was slightly irregular but trading was so dull many of the leaders failed to open until the end of the first hour.

Price movements were inconsequential. Only 50,000 shares changed hands in the first hour.

About the only exception was Loft, down a full point. The weakness was a carry-over from last week but turnover increased with today's decline.

The early firmness in steels did not carry through. Half-point gains were eliminated and in some instances converted to fractional losses. Motor stocks, after a late opening, were about unchanged.

Chemicals were mixed. DuPont lost nearly a point. Allied Chemical was unchanged. Air Reduction and Union Carbide made slight gains. Aircraft and aviations, electrical equipment, and merchandising shares were mostly unchanged.

Rails, utilities, oils and rubbers were mixed, with price variations limited to a quarter point.

Zelienople Prepares For Centennial Celebration

ZELIENOPLE, Pa., July 22.—One hundred years ago Dettmar Basse named a town for his daughter, Zelie.

Pageant costumed characters of the early-day father and daughter will walk again in Zelienople within a few days.

The roles of many other pioneer personages also will be taken when Zelienople celebrates its centennial anniversary for one week, beginning July 28.

A portion of today's 2106 citizens will take the parts of Mr. Basse and his daughter and all of the friends and neighbors who founded and incorporated the borough a hundred years ago.

Religious Service

The celebration will open with a religious program, planned by the ministerial association. Pageants, parades, fairs and historic displays will fill the program.

Coronation of the queen and crowning of "Miss Zelienople" will take place Monday evening. The queen will be Miss Virginia Passavant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Passavant III and descendant of the founder, Mr. Basse. "Miss Zelienople" will be Miss Amy McKay, daughter of Mrs. Hugh McKay and a descendant of an early settler.

The pageant, with nearly 400 persons participating in costume, will be presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Firemen's Fair

The fair, on the old Zelienople baseball diamond, will be operated nightly by members of the volunteer fire department and the American Legion. Parades of visiting firemen will be held.

Rev. Norman D. Goehring of Cambridge, Mass., will conduct the opening religious service on the high school athletic field. A centennial choir of 100 voices, under the direction of H. J. Holroyd, will sing.

At another religious service, Rev. Renee Myers of New York City will speak in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the original church of the community, founded 15 years before the incorporation of the borough. Rev. Myers is a son of a former pastor of the church. At the United Presbyterian Church the Young People's Society will hold a home-coming service.

Many Visitors Expected

Boy Scouts of America will hold an all-day jamboree Tuesday, under the guidance of William F. Livermore, executive director. Wednesday will be Old Timers' Day, with picnics and entertainment in the Old People's Home woods.

In preparation for the celebration, residents have reserved extra rooms for the thousands of visitors, former residents and friends who will take part.
